

Self-Referral Information for Patients

Please keep this leaflet for future reference

Lymphoedema is a long-term condition that will require ongoing management to maintain improvement and prevent the condition from getting worse. Self-management are treatments that you have been recently taught by your therapist that you can do yourself to keep well. Some patients are happy to self-manage and only need to be seen if the lymphoedema changes or you need new compression garments.

How do I refer myself to my local Lymphoedema Service?

You do not need to be referred by someone else, just complete the Referral Form included with this leaflet and then email or post to your local Lymphoedema clinic. Please complete as much information as you can.

What should I continue to do to keep well?

- 1. Skincare: you should continue with regular washing, drying, and moisturising of your skin. Use a moisturising cream of your choice. If you have been recommended a medical cream, this can be provided on prescription from your GP (General Practice).
- 2. Move your body: continue doing the activities agreed with your therapist. Keeping physically active is important to help you manage your lymphoedema, and an active lifestyle is encouraged. Moving a few more steps, taking the stairs instead of the lift, bit of dancing, anything that gets us moving is good. If you want to increase your activity some GP Surgeries can refer you to the National Exercise Referral Scheme.
- 3. Weight management: being overweight can make your swelling much worse. Try to maintain a normal BMI of 25. Seek advice and guidance from your GP if you are struggling to maintain a normal weight. Lots of GP Surgeries now have access to Slimming Clubs or NHS Weight Management groups that you can try for free.
- 4. Compression garments: use a clean garment every time you wear it. Follow the washing instructions provided with the garment packaging. You can wash the garments in the washing machine. Do not use damaged garments, for example if they have holes or ladders, as it will not provide the right compression for your lymphoedema. Some patients may continue to use their garments daily whereas others only a few times a month.

Think you may have cellulitis (infection)?

Cellulitis is a skin infection that can occur if you have lymphoedema. The signs and symptoms of cellulitis are:

- The area will be red or there is a rash,
- It is hot to touch compared to the opposite side,
- Is usually tender or painful,
- Increase in your swelling,
- You may feel generally unwell (as if you have the flu), or have nausea and/or vomiting.

If you think you have cellulitis, it is especially important that you seek medical help immediately from your GP. If you notice these symptoms out of hours, contact your out of hours GP service. It is important to act quickly to prevent the infection from getting any worse, and to prevent further damage to your lymphatics. You will need antibiotics as soon as symptoms occur, and you must take them for no less than two weeks.
